DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-20 and 27-44 drawn to sending at a first radio network entity a transmission power control signal to a mobile radio to control a power level at which the mobile radio transmits data units over the communications channel based on a target value, detecting at the first radio network entity one or more errors in one or more data units received from the mobile radio and requesting retransmission of one or more data units and, providing information associated with the requested retransmission to a second radio network entity for generating a revised target value based on the received information in the second radio network entity, classified in class 455, subclass 522.
 - II. Claims 21-26 drawn to means for performing automatic repeat request (ARQ) operations on certain data units transmitted over a radio interface from a mobile radio, means for generating ARQ related information and forwarding said information to a second radio network entity, and means for performing a first power control associated with the transmit power level of the mobile radio based on a communication quality threshold for communications from the mobile radio over the communications channel, classified in class 455, subclass 522.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Subcombination-Usable Together

3. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, inventions I and II are related as subcombination II has separate utility such as means for performing automatic repeat request (ARQ) operations on certain data units transmitted over a radio interface from a mobile radio, means for generating ARQ related information and forwarding said information to a second radio network entity, and means for performing a first power control associated with the transmit power level of the mobile radio based on a communication quality threshold for communications from the mobile radio over the communications channel. See MPEP § 806.05(d).
4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
